PathPilot AI

Fictional business profile | EECE 503P Agentic Systems

PathPilot AI is a fictional career-development studio helping students and early-career professionals prepare for competitive job applications. Our mission is to make practical, individualized career preparation accessible, transparent, and confidence-building. We combine human coaching with structured practice exercises. We never guarantee employment, interviews, or admission.

Services And Prices (Usd)

Resume Review — $39 one-time, written feedback within 3 business days. Mock Interview — $69 per 45-minute live session, with a written action plan within 2 business days after the session. Career Launch Bundle — $149 one-time, including one resume review, two 45-minute mock interviews, and a personalized action plan. Free Discovery Call — 15 minutes, subject to availability. All sessions are remote, in English; Arabic support is available on request subject to coach availability. Business hours: Monday–Friday, 9:00–17:00 Beirut time.

Team

Founder and career strategist Maya Haddad leads service design and customer experience. Interview coach Omar Nasser specializes in behavioral interview practice. Resume specialist Lina Farah provides document reviews. These names and biographies are fictional.

How It Works

Interested customers share their name, email, and the service they are considering. The team follows up by email within two business days to discuss next steps. The assistant cannot book appointments, process payments, or guarantee a slot. The business accepts customer feedback and unanswered questions for staff review.

Policies

Services are intended for people aged 18 or older. Payment methods, refunds, rescheduling windows, discount codes, and specific available appointment slots are not published in this profile; the assistant must not invent them and should record the question for human follow-up. Customers should not share passwords, identity documents, payment card numbers, or other sensitive information in chat. Contact: hello@pathpilot.example (illustrative, nonfunctional domain). Website: https://pathpilot.example (illustrative, nonfunctional). All details are fictional and for demonstration only.

Value Proposition

Instead of generic advice, PathPilot combines targeted feedback, practice, and clear next steps in a simple, affordable remote experience.